

The 2020 Critical Psychology Conference in East Asia

SCHEDULE

Conference Room 4 on 10th Floor, Building A
Wako University, Machida, Tokyo

First Day: Saturday, February 29

0900 – 0930:

Arrival: Coffee / tea and opportunity to circulate and get to know other presenters

09.30 – 10:30

Introductions: meet the conference organising team and each other

10.30 – 10.50 Presentation 1

Yasuhiro Igarashi (Japan): What is Critical Psychology? A Japanese View from the Standpoint of Theoretical Psychology

10.50 – 11.10 Presentation 2

Karolina Lamtiur Dalimunthe & Noer Fauzi Rachman (Indonesia): Crosses the Disciplinary Boundaries: The Way of Critical Psychology can Understand and deal with Massive Crises in Indonesia

11.10 – 11.30 Presentation 3

Masahiro Masuda (Japan): Resurrecting Constructivist Views of Developmental Processes of Personal Relationships: Acts of Shared Meaning

11.30 – 11.50

Participatory discussion re presentations 1-3

11.50 – 12.50 Lunch

12.50 – 13.10 Presentation 4

Andrea Precht and Silvana S. Hernández-Ortiz (Chile): Dysfunctional Families are the Norm. The Discursive Use of Pseudo-psychological Terms is becoming a Form of Legitimization/De-legitimization of Parental Participation in Schools

13.10 – 13.30 Presentation 5

Brett Scholz (Australia): Critical Approaches to Co-production: Challenges and Opportunities in East Asian Contexts and Beyond

13.30 – 13.50 Presentation 6

Angélick Schweizer (Switzerland): When Sexuality is a Matter of Health: A Critical Health Psychology Study on Psychosexual Experiences of Women Diagnosed with HPV

13.50 – 14.10

Participatory discussion re presentations 4-6

14.10 – 14.30 Break for coffee / toilet / cigarettes etc.

14.30 – 14.50 Presentation 7

Syifa Adilla (Indonesia): Between 'Normal' and 'Mentally Ill' in Indonesia: Who Builds the Discourse?

14.50 – 15.10 Presentation 8

Anup Gampa (China/USA): Transforming Neoliberal Social Psychology into an Emancipatory Science

15.10 – 15.30 Presentation 9

Takehiko Ito (Japan): The Nuclear Plant Accident and Children

15.30 – 15.50

Participatory discussion re presentations 7-9

15.50 – 16.10 Break for coffee / toilet / cigarettes etc.

16.10-17.10 (close)

Participatory discussion: critical issues raised during day 1

18:00–20:00: Banquet at the Wako COOP Restaurant

2nd Day: Sunday, March 1st

09.00 – 09.20 Presentation 10

Fu Wai (Hong Kong): Love will tear us apart: A Case of Critical Psychology in a Place Called Hong Kong

09.20 – 09.40 Presentation 11

Michiko Tsuge (Japan): LGBTQ+ and Psychologists in Japan: Where we are and where we are heading

09.40 – 10.00 Presentation 12

Teguh Wijaya Mulya (Indonesia): What has the Market done to Our Research? Resisting the Neoliberalisation of Knowledge Production through Qualitative Psychological Research

10.00 – 10.20

Participatory discussion: presentations 10 - 12

10.20 – 10.40

Break for exchange /coffee / toilet / cigarettes etc.

10.40 – 11.00 Presentation 13

V. Didik Suryo Hartoko & A. Harimurti (Indonesia): The Emergence of Psychology in Indonesia: From Dutch East Indies to Contemporary Indonesia

11.00 – 11.20 Presentation 14

Robert K. Beshara (USA): Cutting Through False Dualisms: Transformative Social Change as a Transmodern Moral Framework for Critical Psychological Research

11.20 – 11.40

Participatory discussion: presentations 13-14

11.40 – 12.50 Lunch

12.50 – 13.10 Presentation 15

Martin Dege and Irene Strasser (France / Egypt): Critical Psychology and the Liberal Arts

13.10 – 13.30 Presentation 16

Hidekazu Sasaki (Japan): Who defines Self-Realization and/or Self-Actualization? A Critical Consideration of these Concepts from a Japanese Historical Viewpoint

13.30 – 13.50 Presentation 17

Silvana S. Hernández-Ortiz and Andrea Precht (Chile): The Construction of Subjectivities on Schoolchildren Who Have Repeatedly Repeated: A Perspective from Critical Psychology

13.50 – 14.10

Participatory discussion: presentations 15-17

14.10 – 14.30 Presentation 18

Tomoaki Imamichi (USA): Select Eastern Perspectives in Environmental Psychology

14.30 – 14.50 Presentation 19

David Fryer (Australia): Critical Psychologies - So What?

14.50 – 15.10

Participatory discussion: presentations 18-19

15.20 – 15.40

Break for exchange / coffee / toilet / cigarettes etc.

15.40 – 16.40

Participatory discussion: issues raised a) during day 2 and b) during the entire conference

16.40 – 17.10 (close)

Participatory discussion: Where Next for Critical Psychology?

